THANK YOU LONG ISLAND PRO-LIFERS!

The LICL wants to thank all who are helping to make Long Island a Pro-life Island. Below are some of the things the Long Island Coalition for Life has been busy with this summer. VISIBILITY MATTERS!

Thanks to the LICL Educational Trust, aerial banners flew over LI beaches again this summer. This photo shows one of the aerial banners that flew over Jones Beach Fourth of July weekend.

CHOOSE LIFE!

Face the Truth: Fourth of July holiday travelers received the pro-life message from about 50 pro-lifers who lined County Route 111 at LIE Exit 70 in Manorville on Friday, July 1st. While everyone wasn't thrilled to be reminded of the plight of the unborn, we received many honks of approval and thumbs up as people drove by. (Photo courtesy of C. Broyles)

Box 223, Ronkonkoma, NY 11779.

UNICEF – It's that time of year again

Before donating to UNICEF, please pause to consider the following:

The United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) is a UN organization that is, according to its website, "on a mission to reach every child and ensure their well-being, no matter where they live in this world. There's no limit to the lengths UNICEF will go, the risks we'll take or the depth of our commitment to save children's lives. We are committed to take action, save, rehabilitate and watch over children, with special attention to the most vulnerable and excluded groups."

In May 2016, UNICEF Canada pushed for assisted suicide and euthanasia for children, arguing that it conformed with the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child. Manitoba Senator Don Plett stated; "[the UN General Assembly mandated UNICEF] to advocate for the protection of children's rights, to help them meet their basic needs, and to expand their opportunities to reach their full potential. Do you not see a major problem with the consideration of allowing vulnerable children to request assisted death? Have these children... reached their full potential?" UNICEF Canada's policy director Marvin Bernstein stated, "Children who are experiencing irremediable conditions, intolerable and enduring suffering...should have the right when they reach a point of sufficient maturity to make some determinations for themselves."

UNICEF has called for Legal Abortion in the Dominican Republic, Peru, Nicaragua, the Philippines, and other countries worldwide. In 2007, UNICEF joined Planned Parenthood International and the UN's population control arm UNFPA in sponsoring a women's conference, 1/3 of which was dedicated to promoting abortions. Carol Bellamy was executive director of UNICEF from 1995 until 2005. During her tenure, UNICEF became a more direct force behind the promotion of abortion and abortifacient contraceptives worldwide. UNICEF has called for the right of children to confidential sexual and reproductive health services and information – access to 'safe abortion' and the morning after pill. Susan Yoshihara, Ph.D. writes for the Center for Family & Human Rights (C-FAM) and stated, "UNICEF's former mission of promoting child survival allowed the agency to prioritize such issues, but when it adopted a rights-based approach in 1986, it effectively had to emphasize equally all the rights contained in the Children's convention as well as the Women's convention." Controversy has resulted since then.

The position of Treasurer for the Long Island Coalition for Life is vacant. This is a Board of Directors position, requiring attendance at two meetings each month - the second and fourth Mondays. Bookkeeping and/or accounting experience would be helpful. The position of Educational Trust Trustee is also vacant. The Trustee reports directly to the LICL Board. If you are interested in one of these position, please call the LICL at 631-243-1435.

LICL Nomination Committee 2017 Slate

Anyone who wishes to be interviewed by the Nominating Committee for an officer position should notify the Nominating Committee by September 15. Call Daniel Sherry at 631-249-2440 or 631-575-1482. The interview will commence at the September general meeting - (prior to start of meeting) and at least two (2) committee members will be present.

Planned Parenthood helps with voter registration!

"In one of Planned Parenthood's newest disturbing schemes, women now can both register to vote and have their unborn babies aborted in its facilities across the country. The Hill reports Planned Parenthood just announced plans to begin helping people register to vote at its facilities in 45 states. [PP] said volunteers will help patients register to vote in person or online. [PP] says people can register at a Planned Parenthood "regardless of their background, beliefs or political ideology"; but Planned Parenthood is hardly unbiased. It is throwing all its weight behind pro-abortion candidate Hillary Clinton for President...Planned Parenthood's political arm has become increasingly active in this year's election. The group plans to spend $20 million ahead of the fall election to help boost Democratic nominee Hillary Clinton...who promised them that she would repeal the Hyde Amendment and force taxpayers to fund abortions." ## FEDERAL LEGISLATION

On June 27 the Supreme Court struck down (5 to 3) a Texas law requiring abortion facilities to meet the same medical safety standards as other 'walk-in' clinics, calling it an "undue burden" on women seeking abortions. - Whole Women's Health v Texas (Hellerstedt). The law [TXHB2], also had a (court-blocked) provision that required abortionists to have hospital admitting privileges.

The five Justice majority cited data from TxPEP, a research organization gathering data from the abortion industry since 2011. TxPEP is funded by a foundation named after Warren Buffett's deceased first wife. It blamed the law for closing half the abortion mills in Texas, and overcrowding the rest. According to bloomberg.com [7/1/16], one of the researchers, Dan Grossman, is "a provider himself," but the term is not further clarified.

Justice Alito said the evidence did not prove HB2 was the reason some Texas abortion facilities had closed in the last few years. Austin Ruse pointed out the abortion industry, not individual women, had brought the case and the court accepted industry claims that the law made things too expensive for them.

Editors note: Operation Rescue data from Dec. 2015 showed women in Texas wait two days less for an abortion than the U.S. average. (lifeneews.com 12/22/15)

In his dissent, Justice Thomas (quoting Scalia) cites Court's "troubling tendency" to bend rules to prevent any effort to limit abortion. He decries the "habit of applying different rules to different constitutional rights – especially the putative right to abortion," and warned: "As the Court applies whatever standard it likes to any given case..." ("our law is now so riddled with special exceptions for special rights..."...that "...nothing but empty words separates our constitutional decisions from judicial fiat...")

[americanthinker.com 6/29]

A 2007 Washington State law says a pharmacy worker can refuse to dispense a drug for reasons of conscience, but someone at the pharmacy must dispense the drug. A family pharmacy, where all members oppose 'morning after' pills, sued. On June 28, the Supreme Court declined to hear their appeal, letting stand a lower court ruling against the family.

The House passed the Conscience Protection Act on July 13, by 245-182. [King, Zeldin- Yea Israel, Meeks, Rice-Nay]. It protects medical providers, insurers, & facilities from forced participation in abortion, and says 'if you are forced, you can sue'. (The bill, originally HR.4828, was given the number of an already passed Senate bill, S.304.) The bill is now back in the Senate, then needs the President to sign it.

A different conscience bill, H.R.2802/S.1598, pending in Congress, addresses non-LICL issues.

In mid-July, the Senate failed to pass a $1.1B anti-Zika bill, because Democrats insisted $95M for seven Planned Parenthood backed clinics in Puerto Rico remain in the bill. PP claims they are the "front line" in the Zika battle.

On Jul 26, the DA's office (Harris Co., TX) dropped the remaining charge (using fake ID) against aborted baby-parts videographers David Daleiden & Sandra Merritt. Daleiden still faces charges in California.

NEW YORK STATE LEGISLATION

The Special Needs Adoption Tax Deduction Bill - S.4121-A-Ritchie/A.10658-Rules (Simon)- passed both the Senate and Assembly. This bill allows adoptive parents of special needs children to deduct $10,000 from their gross income for tax purposes to help mitigate financial concerns that might deter parents from adopting children with special needs.

Bill S.7697-Avella/A.8176-B-Crespo was passed by the Legislature. This bill requires a report on the potential impact of a tax deduction for parents who adopt children from NY's foster care system.

The following bills were blocked from becoming law in 2016:

Abortion Expansion Bill (S.4432-Stewart-Cousins/A.6221-Glick)

Comprehensive Contraception Coverage Act (S.6013-A-Bonacic/A.8135-B-Cahill), which would mandate group health insurance coverage for abortion-causing drugs with no co-pays or restrictions.

The Boss Bill (S.2709-A-Krueger/A.1142-A-Jaffee), which would infringe upon the religious liberty of pro-life, faith-based employers in regard to personnel decisions.

The Child-Parent Security Act (paid surrogacy) (S.2765-Hoylman/A.4319-Paulin)

The Healthy Teens Act (funding stream for Planned- Parenthood-style sex ed in public schools) (S.700-A-Rivera/A.1616-A-Gottfried)

Physician-Assisted Suicide legislation (S.7579-Savino/A.10059-Paulin) failed to pass either the Senate or Assembly. (Source: New Yorkers for Constitutional Freedoms)

HEALTH & SCIENCE

Euthanasia Will Not Give People Dignity Any More Than Abortion Gave People Equality

Being pro-life means, by definition, being for life. The same groups that recognize the value of children in the womb are those who recognize the value of the elderly, the terminally ill, the mentally ill, and all human life. With euthanasia and assisted suicide now accepted in Canada as additional ways to eliminate inconvenience and suffering, it is worth considering how interconnected the issues of abortion and euthanasia are.

Assisted suicide can be paralleled to drug-induced abortions, where a doctor prescribes pills that the patient ingests to accomplish their own goal of ending life. Euthanasia, on the other hand, can be compared to surgical abortion, where a doctor is called upon to take active measures to end a life. In cases of both assisted suicide and drug-induced abortion, if a patient's self-administered attempt fails, a doctor may be called upon to finish the job.

In both abortion and euthanasia, we see debates dominated by the word "choice". It is becoming increasingly common in Canada for the word "choice" to be associated with ending life. We have essentially eliminated our fundamental right to life, and instead made it only a right to die. There is no legal protection for a woman who chooses to carry her child to term, and no legal guarantee that a terminally ill patient will have access to quality palliative care. Instead, the discussion is focused on the right to end pre-born life, the right to end one's own life, and, some suggest, a right to end the life of someone else who has been rendered incapable of making such a decision for themselves, for reasons such as dementia or mental retardation.

As some try to tell women they are empowered by the choice to kill their child, so we are telling those suffering that they are empowered by euthanasia. Just as we tell a teenage mother she cannot, or should not, consider parenting, so we tell a terminally ill patient that he should not continue to drain resources while his illness runs its course, that he cannot find meaning in his suffering, and that he has nothing of value left to offer to society. We are telling both that the only empowering choice is death.

Pre-natal screening and high abortion rates have set the stage for a culture that is willing to embrace euthanasia. By trying to determine before a baby's birth whether her life is worth living, we break down our resistance to the same question later in life. If I, as a mother, will decide the value of my child's life based on her prenatal diagnosis, I had better be ready to extend that same measuring line to myself, my spouse, my parents, and my born children. I should also consider not only the quality of life of the person whose life is in question, but also how the continued life of that person will affect my quality of life. Is this going to affect my goals?

Be too much of a draw on my personal time and energy? Maybe that life, then, is not worth keeping.

Having the right to abort a child does not enhance a woman's equality, it tells her that what makes her unique is her weakness. So having the right to die at the hand of your doctor does not enhance a patient's dignity, it tells them their doctor is just as happy not to care for them, to move on to another patient with more value. These are lies sold in an attempt to capitalize on physical or mental weakness, fear and self-doubt, lies to cover for a system that is inadequate to meet prenatal, post-natal and palliative care needs. These are lies the pro-life movement has never bought, lies no Canadian should accept as good enough.

Our current void of abortion restrictions and new embracing of euthanasia show a consistent devaluing of life in Canada. If euthanasia "rights" follows the course abortion "rights" have taken, it will soon be available at any age or developmental stage, for any reason, from poverty to inconvenience to relationship difficulties.

But, if we are a country that values life, or at least we want to be, then we need to stop looking for legal ways to end it and instead look for ways to embrace and enhance it. As pro-life individuals, it is our responsibility to model respect for life, to tell our friends and neighbours that we value them, and to show in how we treat each and every person we meet that we believe they have something to offer and a reason for existing.

Embryonic Experimentation

Rob Stein reported at NPR.org on August 4th, "The federal government announced plans to lift a moratorium on funding of certain controversial experiments that use human stem cells to create animal embryos that are partly human. The National Institutes of Health is proposing a new policy to permit scientists to get federal money to make embryos, known as chimeras, under carefully monitored conditions. The NIH imposed a moratorium on funding these experiments in September because they could raise ethical concerns. One issue is that scientists might inadvertently create animals that have partly human brains, endowing them with some semblance of human consciousness or human thinking abilities. Another is that they could develop into animals with human sperm and eggs and breed, producing embryos or fetuses inside animals or hybrid creatures... Critics [have] denounced the decision. "Science fiction writers might have imagined worlds like this – like The Island of Dr. Moreau, Brave New World, Frankenstein," says Stuart Newman, a biologist at New York Medical College. "There have been speculations. But now they're becoming more real. And I think that we just can't say that since it's possible then let's do it." The public has 30 days to comment on the proposed new policy. NIH could start funding projects as early as the start of 2017."

Culture of Life & Politicians

Carl Anderson, leader of the Knights of Columbus, in an address to the K of C International Convention in Toronto on August 2nd stated,
 "It is time to stop creating excuses for voting for pro-abortion politicians. Abortion is the killing of the innocent on a massive scale." He said politics does not mean partisanship, but a stand for the common good and for moral and religious values that make free, democratic institutions possible. Foremost among these values, is "the equal dignity of every human life and the right of every person to freely practice their religion. We will never succeed in building a culture of life if we continue to vote for politicians who support a culture of death...Some partisan advocates have sought to excuse support for pro-abortion candidates through a complex balancing act. They claim other issues are important enough to offset a candidate's support for abortion. But the right to abortion is not just another political issue. It is, in reality, a legal regime that has resulted in more than 40 million deaths...What political issue could possibly outweigh this human devastation? The answer, of course is that there is none...[we need to] think in new ways [to build] a civilization of love."
