PLANNED PARENTHOOD – #1 IN DESTRUCTION OF INNOCENT LIFE BY ABORTION IN THE U.S.

Planned Parenthood Federation of America operates the nation's largest abortion chain. It has hundreds of facilities across the country and admits to committing 327,166 abortions in 2012. Planned Parenthood has always prided itself on the number of communities where it has facilities. In 1993, when it had 922 facilities nationwide, it announced a goal of 2,000 facilities by 2000. Due to strong opposition from everyday citizens, the highest number was 938 facilities in 1995. The American Life League has been fighting Planned Parenthood since 1979. Their STOPP International project has focused exclusively on PP since 1985. Over the years, they've been joined by so many other groups that today, it seems like almost every pro-family group in the country has its own fight against PP. According to STOPP, in 2013, Planned Parenthood Federation of America had 695 clinics, the fewest facilities it has had since 1973. Undercover videos, restrictive legislation, cutting off state and local taxpayer funding, and peaceful, prayerful street activities right outside PP's doors have all contributed to reaching this milestone.

Adapted from "Planned Parenthood Hits a Record Low" 6/23/2014 by Jim Sedlak, vice president of American Life League, founder of STOPP International, and the nation's leading expert on Planned Parenthood. See Health and Science, Page 4, for a related article.

FEDERAL LEGISLATION

January 2015 begins the 114th Congress. All legislation that was not passed by Congress as of Dec 31, 2014 has “died.” It can be re-introduced in the new Congress.

As of Dec 7, the No Taxpayer Funding for Abortion & Abortion Insurance Full Disclosure Act [HR.7] and the Religious Liberty Protection Act of 2014 [HR.4396] could possibly see action in the Lame Duck session. But most attention is focused on budget matters - Will the outgoing Congress fund the Federal Government just until the new Congress is seated, or will funding extend to the end of the fiscal year in Sept.? The latter option removes much of the new Congress’s leverage over programs it objects to - like abortion funding in ObamaCare.

NOTE: “LICL objects to ObamaCare because parts in it include abortion coverage and abortifacient/sterilization/contraception coverage at taxpayer expense, and direct or implicit limiting of care to vulnerable populations such as sick newborns and terminally ill.” What are these ‘coverages’ we object to? Violations of the Hyde Amendment. Over $655,000 to Planned Parenthood to act as ‘HealthCare Navigators’. Sections 1303 & 1334 set up hidden abortion surcharges, and obscure which plans cover elective abortion. Some info on coverage, and a lot more, can be found at obamacareabortion.com. There are 1,036 plans on State Exchanges that cover elective abortion.

The Supreme Court has taken a case, King v Burwell, to decide if the ObamaCare law allows a Federal Health Care exchange, or only State exchanges. Court watchers differ as to whether this case might overturn ObamaCare.

Attorney General Eric Holder will resign, and President Obama has nominated US attorney for the Eastern District of NY Loretta Lynch as his replacement. Holder brought suit against several pro-lifers under the FACE act. Impacting Lynch’s confirmation is the change of party running the Senate.

HHS abortifacient/sterilization/contraception Mandate was changed (Aug. 2014) so that objecting entities need only tell the Feds they oppose the covered items. The Federal Govt. then tell the insurers to cover the items ‘for free’. But many organizations say they are still being forced to take an action they oppose. As of Dec. 7, all suits at the Court of Appeals level (one step below Supreme Court) have been ruled to NOT be a “substantial burden” on the religious entities, under the new rules. The Supreme Court will likely take a case after we have a conflicting Appeals Court ruling.

NEW YORK STATE LEGISLATION

Several new pro-life legislators were sent to Albany as a result of hard work prior to Election Day, Nov. 4, 2014.

Has your organization contacted your new Senator or Assembly Member? Our faithful pro-life representatives who won re-election need our support as well. Remember to contact them in person with a visit during one of the Albany events listed below, by making an appointment to have representatives of your organization meet them in their district office, or, by a letter introducing your group and asking their continued support. Contact with legislators is more than social, it is vital. Once the 2015-2016 Legislative Session begins representatives will be contacted by pro-abortion advocates. Your support will go a long way.

Albany Events – share this information and plan to attend one or more. Remember: students are welcome. A trip to Albany is an excellent learning experience for all. Phone or go to the website of the organizations as soon as possible to sign up and to obtain additional instructions pertinent to the event:

Sat. Feb. 7 10 AM – 1:30 PM
“Denial of Treatment” seminar. Lobbyists and all who respect life will need this update on “Denial of Treatment” legislation expected to be introduced in 2015. All are welcome. See Page 8 for details.

Correction: In the Dec. issue of Life News, Page 3, Lee Zeldin, winner in the Nov. 4 election and will represent NYS’s 1st Congressional District was referred to as Senator-Elect.

Election Corner – “Special Elections” Alert -The election is over, but four local winners left seats to fill:
-- Nassau District Attorney – Gov. Cuomo will appoint an immediate replacement for Kathleen Rice until a Nov. 2015 “Special Election” for a new four-year term;
-- the Islip Town Supervisor seat vacated by Tom Croci;
--the Nassau Legislative seat vacated by Michael Venditto;
-- the Suffolk Legislative seat vacated by John Kennedy.

HEALTH & SCIENCE

Latest Abortion Statistics

Randall K. O'Bannon, Ph.D., NRL Director of Education & Research, commented in National Right to Life News Today on December 1st and 2nd on the latest CDC report. The US Centers for Disease Control (CDC) recently released their abortion surveillance report for 2011. There was a significant drop in the number, rate and ratio of abortions in the US. (Note: the most populous state, California, as well as Maryland and New Hampshire did not submit data). The Guttmacher Institute (a nonprofit research organization that supports abortion) issued a report earlier this year that also showed a notable drop in the number of abortions. The CDC reported 730,322 abortions for 2011. The Guttmacher Institute reported 1,058,470 for the same year. The Guttmacher Institute surveys abortion facilities directly. The CDC relies on state health reports. This explains the higher number reported by Guttmacher. Therefore, Guttmacher's numbers are viewed as more accurate. However, Guttmacher only issues reports every few years. The CDC reports annually, and tracks the same variables most years.

The 2011 total is the lowest number of abortions reported by the CDC since California, New Hampshire and at least one other state were dropped in 1998. The abortion rate of 13.9 (number of abortions per 1000 women ages 15-44) is the lowest recorded rate since 1973. The abortion ratio (number of abortions for every 1000 live births) was 359 in 1980. The abortion ratio for 2011 was 219 - quite a significant drop. Women aged 29 and younger had 71.7% of the reported abortions in the 2011 CDC report. 32.9% of these were women aged 20-24. Overall, teens accounted for 13.9% of all abortions in 2011. In 1980, teens accounted for 29.2% of all abortions.

The abortion rate for women 30-34 did not drop as significantly, and the abortion rate for women 35-39 went up 1.4% and for women 40 and over there was a 7.7% increase. O'Bannon questions whether this could reflect a generational attitude difference (younger women more pro-life) or the result of more pre-natal genetic testing which results in abortion after a negative diagnosis.

More abortions were done at less than 8 weeks gestation in 2011 (64.5%) than in 1973 (36.1%). More than 1/3 of all abortions are now done at 6 weeks or less. O'Bannon notes the significant increase in the use of chemical abortion methods. However, most abortions (79.4%) still fall under "curettage" which includes manual vacuum aspiration, suction aspiration, D&E (dilation and evacuation) and other surgical methods. Abortions at 14 weeks gestation or more accounted for 8.7% of all abortions. 7,325 were done at 21 weeks or more.

The Wednesday STOPP report of December 3, 2014 issued by Stop Planned Parenthood noted that the CDC report showed that abortion ratios throughout the entire period were highest among girls under the age of 15, and that abortion ratios decreased from 2002 to 2011 for women in all age groups except those under 15. The STOPP report noted that a Planned Parenthood fact sheet acknowledges that adolescents are more likely to have an abortion at 21 weeks gestation or later.

Most abortions (85.5%) involve unmarried women. 46.4% of all abortions were repeat abortions with 25.5% having one previous abortion, 11.6% having 2 and 9.3% reporting 3 or more previous abortions. 60% of all women reported having had at least one previous live birth. 19.6% had at least 2 children and 13.9% had 3 or more. O'Bannon notes that this indicates a need to address the needs of the young, single mom as well as the high school teenager.

Race and ethnicity are more difficult to report, since the states track this information differently or not at all. However, O'Bannon reports that abortion rates for Hispanics dropped more than those for non-Hispanics, and that although African Americans make up 14.2% of the US population, African American women accounted for 36-38% of all abortions in the US in 2011. Abortion rates for African Americans did go down over the past 10 years, but are still much higher than other groups. The black abortion rate is 25.8 versus 7.8 for white. The black abortion ratio is 381 abortions for every 1000 live births and 126 abortions for whites. O'Bannon states that these numbers indicate a need to increase the pro-life outreach to minority communities.

Dr. O'Bannon notes that although the number of abortions has dropped significantly over the past 20 years, women are still dying from abortion. 10 women are known to have died in 2010 (CDC abortion mortality figures are always behind by one year). For 11 years, 6 or more women have died from abortions. He notes that the risk of death from abortion figures reported by the CDC for the past decade are actually higher than it was for the previous one. He acknowledges that we have made progress, but there are still many ways for us to save unborn babies and their mothers.
