The theme for the National March for Life 2021 was “Together Strong: Life Unites.” Although the National March for Life in Washington, D.C. was mostly virtual, the website, Marchforlife.org has photos and videos of events and other information of interest. On Long Island there were many events. The DRVC Office of Human Life, Family & Bioethics Facebook Page has many photos to view (see more photos on page 5). Also, the LI Coalition for Life sponsored Face the Truth on Sun., Jan. 17 and March for Life NY took place on Sat., Jan. 23.

Roe v Wade Memorial Face the Truth was held on Sun., Jan. 17: In a beautiful showing of support for the preborn threatened by abortion, about 90 pro-lifers took part in the Roe v Wade Memorial Face the Truth event. For an hour and a half travelers viewed our respect life messages along the 1/4 mile in front of Nassau University Medical Center. The LICL, which sponsored this event, thanks all who attended.

Students at Our Lady of Lourdes School, Malverne 1/29/21

St. Francis de Sales, Patchogue 1/29/21

This photo of the LICL information table at March for Life NY, doesn't show quite how cold and windy it was. But the crowd stayed 1-2 hours listening to speakers, including a Navy Seal, Congressman Lee Zeldin, and Nick Loeb, producer of the film Roe v Wade (roevwademovie.com, due to be released in April). We were exhorted to stay engaged, to take action and not to acquiesce to being comfortable while the ruin of the preborn grips our nation. Celeste set-up & “manned” the table as always and took the photo. Thank you Celeste.

Adoption

Mary Cooney, the mother of a child with Down Syndrome, recently reviewed a book by Heather Avis entitled The Lucky Few. Heather has three adopted children - two with Down Syndrome. The following is from Mary's review on MercatorNet.com, February 8, 2021. Sami is the birth mother of one of Heather's children. Sami's heartbreaking goodbye to her son is described in Heather's book. "Women like Sami are the unsung heroines of the pro-life movement. Difficult, messy, and painful as their own lives may be, they still choose life for their unborn babies. While the world tells them to make choices in their own best interests, they still choose what's best for the babies in their wombs: life over death, adoption over abortion, hope over despair. These moms ought to be thanked and recognized for their heart-rending but life-giving sacrifices."

"So today, when we usually would be Marching for Life in Washington D.C., I've been praying for all the moms who have given up a baby for adoption. Praying for the moms who are agonizing over what to do with an unplanned pregnancy or a baby with special needs. Praying that they will have all the love and support they need to make the loving choice and be honored for it."

"May God bless these unsung heroines! May He heal their hearts and reward them for their selflessness. By their sacrifices and examples, we are one step closer to building a culture of life."

*After your birth,
One of your first sensations was being
Nestled in the loving arms of your parents.*

*In contrast, for many of the 3,300 babies
Who are aborted each day,
Their last sensation is
The powerful suction of an abortion machine.*

ABORTING A BABY IS A CRUEL CHOICE

Today, January 22, marks the 48th Memorial Anniversary of the Supreme Court's infamous 1973 Roe v Wade decision which legalized abortion for the entire 9 months of a baby's development. That's 48 years. That's 60+ million dead babies. That's evil. Paraphrasing England's Sir Edmund Burke: "The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is that good men (and women) do nothing." We urge good men and women - you our neighbors - to stand up and be Voices for Life. The babies need us now.

Church of St. Joseph Respect Life Ministry and Knights of Columbus St. Joseph-Bishop Baldwin Council 15809

The ad above was placed in The Garden City News, 1/27/2021 issue. This touching and educational ad was sponsored by the Church of St. Joseph Respect Life Ministry [Garden City] and Knights of Columbus St. Joseph-Bishop Baldwin Council 15809. The ad was coupled with their Letter to the Editor, decrying the loss of the millions of aborted babies and seeking an end to this injustice, saying, "We can make this a better world by working together to ensure that each mother and child is cherished and protected."

Kudos to these and other local respect life groups that have placed ads in a range of sizes and messages in local papers and college papers. Might your respect life group do the same? Even a business size ad can be effective. Ads run at Mother's Day, Father's Day, Sibling's Day, etc. are opportunities to utilize the media to educate on pro-life facts and resources.

FEDERAL LEGISLATION

Joe Biden was sworn in as President of the U.S. on Jan. 20, following more than 12 weeks of election disputes. Several election lawsuits are still moving through the courts.

Pres. Biden signed 45 Executive Actions in his first two weeks in office, including 27 Executive Orders. Many institute new policy, and thus are more like laws. Others have revoked the Mexico City Policy, the Protect Life Rule, and again sent taxpayer funds to International Planned Parenthood.

“Personnel = Policy”: Nominated/confirmed to positions in the new Administration are: Gov. Raimondo for Commerce Secretary (signed ‘abortion thru birth’ bill); Mayor Walsh for Labor Secretary (renamed a street after an abortionist); Chief of Staff Klain (NARAL ‘soldier’); Dr. Kessler for Vaccine ‘czar’ (fast-tracked RU-486 approval); Francis Collins for NIH (‘aborted baby-parts research is prolife’); Jamie Harrison to head DNC (supports abortion on demand); Dr. Rachel Levine for Assistant Health Secretary (took Mom out of personal care home after creating policy to readmit ‘healthy’ COVID patients); Samantha Power for USAID (radical pro-abortionist).

The pick for Attorney General is former SCOTUS nominee, now DC Court of Appeals Judge, Merrick Garland. It is speculated that activist Kentanji Brown-Jackson will replace Garland on the DC Circuit, and then Jackson will replace Justice Bryer on SCOTUS if/when he retires. Activist Kristen Clarke is the nominee for Assistant Attorney General for Civil Rights.

The House of Representatives has a slimmer than expected Democrat majority. The Senate is split 50-50, after two GOP losses in Georgia on Jan. 5. House Democrats changed a rule, limiting the “motion to recommit” procedure. It is now harder for the minority party to amend legislation.

HR.1/S.1 was reintroduced. It restricts many of the safeguards that have served our elections fairly well for the last 120 years. AMAC reports it includes federal control of elections, effectively resulting in a takeover of state elections. It also includes taxpayer funding of candidates. It would reduce the Federal Elections Commission from six to five members, effectively resulting in one-party oversight of federal elections and campaign finance laws.

HR.1/S.1 also includes First Amendment restrictions, especially by broadening public disclosure of donors to non-profit (501c4 and c6) organizations. Donors could be subject to harassment and intimidation, and thus lead to less civic engagement and free speech. Parts of HR.1/S.1 may violate the US Constitution.

Re-introduced Pro Life Bills in the Senate or House:

S.61 - Pain Capable (20 week) abortion ban

S.123 - Born Alive Abortion Survivors Protection Act

HR.188 - Lets States deny Title XIX funds to abortionists.

HR.343 - States must report Medicaid-funded abortions.

HR.500 - To maintain Trump’s Protect Life (Title X) rule.

HR.552 - Abortion pill clients must be told about reversal.

HR.554 - Abortion pills must be dispensed in person (Note: SCOTUS has upheld the FDA’s ‘in person’ rule).

HR.555 - No disposing fetal remains in landfills or water.

HR.620 - Abortionists must see to proper fetal disposal.

HR.626 - Woman must get exam pre & post abortion pill.

HR.627 - Bans taking minors to other States to avoid parental consent laws.

Two hundred House members sent a letter to Congressional leaders, stating they will oppose any attempt to weaken the Hyde Amendment. Forty-eight Senators sent a letter to Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer stating that they will block any bill that would undermine the Hyde Amendment or other current protections for the unborn. (41 Senators can block any bill with the filibuster. Sixty votes are needed to end the debate.)

The U.S. Supreme Court will not hear Bruni v City of Pittsburgh. It included a question regarding a local ‘bubble zone’ law.

A Kansas Supreme Court ruled in 2019 that abortion is a state constitutional right. The Kansas Legislature recently passed the “Value Them Both” constitutional amendment overturning the ruling. The amendment will be on the ballot in Kansas in August 2022. Personhood.org stated the amendment will not ban abortions; it allows the legislature to decide the question.

The CA Supreme Court affirmed that California law restricts post-viability abortions by allowing a murder charge against a woman who had a stillbirth after using drugs.

NEW YORK STATE LEGISLATION

On Dec. 22, 2020, the governor signed the Jonah Bichotte Cowan Law, requiring hospitals to treat a woman in pre-term labor or send her to where she will get care.

New Yorkers for Constitutional Freedoms lists the following action items in the NYS 2021-2022 Legislative Agenda:

* Infant Recovery Centers Act, a pilot program for recovery centers for opiate-addicted infants.

* The Live Act, criminalizing knowingly causing injury to a pregnant woman.

- A law creating an affirmative and enforceable requirement that medical care be provided to infants surviving abortion.

- A law to criminalize harm to unborn children as a result of assaults on their mothers.

- Parental notification before abortion procedure is performed on a minor.

- Opposing the Medical Aid in Dying Act, or other measures legalizing physician-assisted suicide.

- Opposing government funding for elective abortions and/or abortion providers.

- Oppose compelled speech requirements or onerous reporting requirements on pro-life pregnancy centers.

- Oppose any measure requiring or promoting "emergency contraception" on college campuses.

- Oppose any ‘Equal Rights’ amendment to the state constitution that would establish a fundamental right to abortion

HEALTH & SCIENCE

Angels in Waiting

Angels In Waiting (AIW) is a “501(c)(3) public charity created by nurses who are addressing the needs of America’s growing fragile foster care population.” Their website is: angelsinwaitingusa.org. The CEO/founder of the organization is Linda West-Conforti, RN. AIW “helps facilitate the foster child’s move from hospitals, institutions, group homes and poorly supported foster homes into private residences under the care of Registered Nurses and Licensed Vocational Nurses as their foster parents. Nurse-Foster Providers supply three essential ingredients for these infants and children to heal – A Loving Enriched Home Environment – Individualized Nursing Care – Early Intervention Therapies.” The organization was featured on The Doctors Show several years ago.

Across the country, there is a growing number of medically fragile infants and children in the foster care system. Many are left alone in hospitals or institutions because of their needs and are often identified as “failure to thrive”. The “increase in epidemic drug use among pregnant women has resulted in an escalating number of premature foster care infants with marked medical and developmental complications... returning them to their biological home is not in the child’s best interest. Each year, thousands of children enter the foster care system needing specialized medical care. They may require medical equipment such as IV infusions, feeding tube, nebulizer or oxygen. Others require a medical team that monitors and manages congenital heart defects, gastrointestinal disorder, or autoimmune disorders. AIW’s mission is to recruit nurses to provide consistent care to save our most vulnerable infants and children by changing State laws, providing in-home nursing care, and eliminating long-term Foster Care placements. [The AIW] Nurse-Resource-Adopt Program offers the ideal start to a happy and healthy childhood.”

AIW helped in the creation of California State Law Chapter #490 in 2014. This law requires that “‘Priority Consideration’ be given to a placement with a foster/resource parent who is a nurse provider under the EPSDT private duty nursing programs.” It addresses the need for at-home care for those children “languishing” in institutions, group homes or poorly supported resource/foster homes. AIW’s Independent Nurse Provider Program has an 85% adoption rate and is always looking for dedicated nurses.

AIW is also promoting “Sammy’s Bill.” This legislation addresses children whose mothers are considering a late-term abortion by providing another option. “With the aid of our advancement in neonatal science, Sammy’s Bill could provide women more options and potentially viable fetuses a fighting chance at life...Recent scientific studies show a 75% survival rate at 24 weeks gestational age...As a result of these new advancements, many 24-week gestational age fetuses chosen for abortions can be potentially viable human beings by today’s medical standards. Moreover, studies show many women who experience late-term abortions suffer from emotional distress and conflict for many decades, if not for their lifetime.

The Supreme Court did not define viability because they say the point of viability varies. The court ruled in Roe v. Wade (1973) and reaffirmed in Planned Parenthood v. Casey (1992) that viability is the point at which there is a realistic possibility of maintaining and nourishing a life outside the womb, creating a “compelling interest” in protecting the life of the developing infant. Advancements in Neonatal technology such as Advanced Hemodynamic Monitoring, Continuous Positive Airway Pressure (CPAP), High Frequency Oscillatory Ventilators, and much more are dramatically improving the chance of life for premature births. Over the last two decades, we have seen tremendous improvements. Treating a 24-week gestational age preemie in the early 2000s was near 25%, where today we see a significant increase of a 75% success rate...

“Sammy’s Bill would allow women intent on having a late-term abortion of 24+-weeks to terminate their pregnancy and save the life of the potentially viable fetus. This legislation would allow doctors to induce labor using the same safeguards, techniques and pre-term induction protocols already in use to successfully save 24-week gestational age ‘wanted’ preemies.” Once these babies are cleared to be released from the Neonatal Intensive Care Units, organizations like AIW will work to give “these viable infants and children a fighting chance at life, love, and a forever home.” AIW and similar organizations are “saving the ones we can by offering women more options.”

That time is arriving now...the push is now on to expand the limit to 28 days... We may soon have the ability to maintain fetuses in artificial wombs. Once that happens, what is to prevent scientists from creating embryos, implanting them in artificial wombs and treating fetuses as a mere natural resource to be exploited and harvested...Live fetal experimentation was conducted in the late 60's, and was only stopped because people still believed in the sanctity of human life. That great moral principle no longer holds sway over great swaths of society. The important thing now is preventing suffering by almost any means necessary." (Lifenews.com 2/2/21)
